Hello Lembit,

Thank you for your message. I would like you to clarify where you are getting this information from as you have no proof. I for one am very disappointed. I agreed to the investigation because we need to review why John Fine has so many discrepancies in the Merit Group as Ria had kindly stated. This whole situation is very serious as why John Fine thinks that he can address anything we are talking about due to his inability to implement. I will not be backing or supporting the Space debris act or the Traffic Act because you keep putting other Parliamentarians in danger by moving acts ahead without the appropriate conversation or consent from bodies and institutions that have been here before the Earth was formed. This should serve as a lesson to why you should never try to take over any legislation anyone brings up but work as a team to ensure all relationships and requirements are in place. Everyone in the parliament should be suspended for allowing that act to move on without the appropriate additions. They should be worrying about their safety. How dare you allow a nobody to draft such a document. Is this why you are not back in British Parliament? You don't understand lineage, power and politics behind who has the right to discuss, implement and mitigate particular types of laws. This is not a situation you have the capability of understanding do you. Or are you from the nobody side of earth that tries to produce legislation with NO MERIT because there are people like my royal blood line walking around and there is nothing you have left in life? In sure you can see the complete Nonsense you are pushing.

Additionally the fact that you cannot speak or understand Earthian English is very astounding. I have not included Asgardian Government or Parliament in anything NRAD. NRAD will always be around and there is nothing you can do about it. And for your FREQUENCY. Do you think because I fired Bolous Dad that you can appear in this place and find the WHITE person to have an issue with me. This is simply hilarious and going to be a wonderful topic of discussion. We will always be around to prevent such insane tactics. Bolous dad has been fired and there is nothing you can do about it.

The next time we speak if I don't see progress about inclusion and the promotion of my principles I will be pulling all my funding from Asgardia. You clearly have no right to or authority to allow such senseless behavior. I asked for the commentary or the Contract Act for improvement yet you give me uneducated HOGWASH. You better shape up young man British Parliament will keep chewing you up and spitting you out. Please see how NRAD is represented in writing below before you start your campaign of inappropriate conduct. I don't like to address my friends this way but with the responsibilities, power and authority I have in life that God has so wonderfully granted me and my people we cannot allow War and Chaos to thrive because you are not qualified or educated enough. You will get a cease and desist from my lawyers so we can discuss this in the appropriate manner. If you want to be in handcuffs is your choice. Have a wonderful day Friend.

Best Wishes,
Ikeobi Ekwevi MP
